Our fuel mix

Every year we must publish details of the fuel sources that have been used to generate the electricity we supply to our customers.
The information in the table below covers our supply licence for EDF Energy Customers Ltd for the period from April 2024 to March 2025.
Our customers' electricity is sourced from our own UK power stations, the wholesale energy market and other independent power generators. We are a major supporter of independent renewable generators.

The figures for UK average fuel mix are provided by the Department for Energy Security & Net Zero (DESNZ).

Depending on the tariff you are on, the fuel source and carbon emissions associated with the generation of your electricity may vary.

Extending or Terminating your contract
If you're on a fixed or flexible contract, the Charges stated in your Contract Information Pack (CIP) will automatically end on the Earliest Termination Date shown in your CIP. If we don't hear from you by the Earliest Termination Date, you'll automatically move onto our Extended Supply Charges. You'll remain on Extended Supply Charges until you either agree another supply contract with us or transfer to another supplier, which you can do at no cost to you (as long as you have no outstanding balance on your account). These Extended Supply Charges are variable and typically higher than the charges found in your CIP.

For emergencies

Power cuts
Check your trip switch to make sure it's switched on. If it's off, try switching it back on. If the switch moves back to the off position you may have a fault with an appliance or circuit in your property.

Do not touch any fuses or trip switches that show signs of burning or if there is any black tar leaking. If this is the case, or if your trip switch is on but you have no power anywhere in your property then please call the emergency number shown at the top of page 1.
